Rules and Regulations

1. The Atlanta Downtown Neighborhood Association (ADNA) is responsible only for providing the festival space for exhibitors. Each artist/exhibitor is responsible for his/her own displays. This MUST INCLUDE a standard 10'x10' festival booth. We advise all exhibitors to bring side walls and weights for their tents in case of inclement weather, as all booth spaces are on the street and staking is NOT permitted.
2. Exhibitors will be permitted to load in/out at their booth space, after which time vehicles MUST be removed from the festival area. The festival will provide an area with complimentary parking for exhibitors. Load out will not be permitted either day until after the festival area is closed. No cars will be allowed within the festival area, for any reason, during festival hours of operation. Please plan accordingly.
3. The ADNA Festival & Tour of Lofts is a rain-or-shine event and will take place May 17-18, 2008. Late cancellations and no-shows will not receive a refund for their booth fees, and no-shows will not be considered for future festivals.
4. All work exhibited at the festival must be original, handmade or created by the exhibiting artist and/or their partners or employees. Merchandise that is for resale will not be permitted, handmade or not. Exhibitors who sell such items risk ejection from the festival and forfeit of their booth fee.
5. The ADNA Festival Artist Market reserves the right to refuse exhibitors' sale of unapproved items. This includes, but is not limited to, items made from kits, resale items, non-handmade work, or that which was not included in the official application.
6. Neither ADNA nor its agents or representatives are responsible for any damages or loss that may occur to the Exhibitor, their agent or property from any cause whatsoever. Exhibitors should plan accordingly, and may obtain insurance (at their own expense) against such losses or damage.
